

Program structure

Number of semesters in the program	Core area 65 credit points		Complementary area 30 credit points
1st semester 30 credit points	Module Knowledge and Its Resources: Interdisciplinary Approaches to Wissensgeschichte (15 credit points)		Elective module (15 credit points)
2nd semester 30 credit points	Module Notation, Writing Systems and Human Awareness (15 credit points)	Two of the following modules
3rd semester 30 credit points		Divination in the Ancient World (15 credit points) -or- Astral Sciences and Mathematics in the Ancient World (15 credit points) -or- Medicine in the Ancient World (15 credit points)	Elective module (15 credit points)
4th semester 30 credit points	Module Research Colloquium in Wissensgeschichte 5 credit points	Master's thesis (25 credit points)
120 credit points			