Description/content	The English-taught Master's programme in African Verbal and Visual Arts deepens knowledge that has been gained in diversity and creativity of languages, literatures, art, and media in Africa. The programme is unique in its interdisciplinary design and combination of subjects that can be selected individually.

In choosing to learn two of the African languages on offer, including Bambara, Swahili, Wolof or Arabic and Xhosa (as a second language), students can acquire the foundation for scientific and communicative application. In addition, theories, methods, and thematic foci enable a well-grounded engagement with current research issues of cultural studies and humanities in Africa at large, not limited by disciplinary boundaries.

The programme is conceptualised as an immersion in and continuation of the specialisation fields offered in the African Verbal and Visual Arts (Languages, Literatures, Media and Art) Bachelor's programme at Bayreuth University. These fields include African Linguistics, Swahili Studies, Literatures in African Languages, and Media/Arts and Curational Studies in Africa.

Course Details

Course organisation In commencing the two-year Master's programme, which is organised in modules, students already bring profound interdisciplinary knowledge on Africa from a relevant Bachelor's programme, e.g. the Bayreuth University African Verbal and Visual Arts (Languages, Literatures, Media and Art) BA programme.

During the second semester at the latest, students can choose to apply this knowledge in a field of specialisation: 1 African Linguistics; 2 African Literatures; 3 Arts, Curational Studies and Media in Africa; 4 Swahili Studies; or 5 Multidisciplinary Studies (this option allows for an interdisciplinary immersion in selected fields of specialisation).

Interdisciplinary modules that are compulsory for all students include theories, methods, and courses in two African languages (Bambara, Swahili, Wolof or – in certain cases – Arabic and Xhosa) that provide students with both academic and communicative skills.

Costs / Funding

Tuition fees per semester in EUR None

Semester contribution In Germany, students at all higher education institutions pay a semester contribution. This payment (University of Bayreuth: 143 EUR per semester) has nothing to do with tuition fees; rather, it covers your contributions to student services and the student government. At the University of Bayreuth (which combines the campus in Bayreuth and our Faculty VII located in Kulmbach), it includes a "semester ticket" that allows you to use public transportation in the region.

Costs of living

The cost of living in Germany, e.g. accommodation, food, clothing and recreational activities, is about average compared to other European countries. Living expenses are significantly lower than in countries like Denmark, Luxembourg or Switzerland, but they are rather high compared to countries like Poland, the Czech Republic or Italy. Compared to other large German cities, such as Munich, Berlin or Hamburg, Bayreuth's low cost of living and affordable housing make the city and the region particularly attractive to young people and families. You can find an example what the monthly costs could be here: <https://www.gamechanger-campus.de/en/cost-of-living>.
