Description/content

The structure of the study programme was developed jointly by the consortium of the participating universities:

- First semester: "Basics of Sustainable Development" (30 ECTS) introduces the concept of sustainable sustainability and current sustainability issues from different perspectives and presents research and intervention strategies.
- Second semester: "Specialisation" (30 ECTS) aims at deepening a specific area of sustainable development and its related scientific strategies and methods. The specialisation takes place during the mandatory mobility at one of the partner universities.
- Third semester: "Integration phase" (30 ECTS) provides students with the necessary scientific and social skills to work on inter- and transdisciplinary case studies.
- The fourth semester is dedicated to the Master's thesis (30 ECTS).

Further information on the programme can be found at <https://www.jointdegree.eu/de/joint-international-master-in-sustainable-development/>.
