Description/content	The English-taught Master's programme in Global Management offers students a holistic approach towards management and provides a fundamental overview in the areas of sales, procurement management, operational excellence, digital economics and global business strategies. Directed at graduates of a business-related Bachelor's programme with an interest in international management topics, the programme imparts knowledge in all management areas relevant for innovative international value chains.

Apart from theoretical knowledge, international managers also need intercultural competence and an in-depth understanding of the markets they are dealing with.

Therefore, our MA students spend the third semester doing a practical internship in an internationally operating company (e.g. in a marketing or HR department). The Master's thesis is also project-based and written in cooperation with the company. Thus, you can immediately apply your knowledge and gain profound professional experience at the same time. The internship must be completed in a country or region where the typical language is different from the one in which the student obtained the Bachelor's degree.

At our practice-oriented university, students benefit from professors with international experience and many years of managerial experience.

My experience at Hof University and the Global Management Master's degree programme has been amazing. I am very happy to have had the opportunity to attend lessons with people from different countries and cultures, which exposed me to the globalised world in which we live. In saying that, I can testify that this Master's programme offers more than quality lessons, fantastic teachers and excellent facilities. It also offers an international environment that will prepare us for our future careers.

Welcoming Our New Students

In this video, we accompany our new students on their first day, which is also beginning of the Orientation Week, at Hof University. The students also talk about their first impressions of Germany and Hof University.

About Hof University

Founded in 1994, our university offers a very attractive study environment with its modern architecture and its state-of-the-art classrooms, laboratories, and dormitories. You will receive a first-class, hands-on education here. As a practice-oriented university of applied sciences with integrated internships in all programmes, the employability of our graduates is the main focus of our teaching.

We offer more than 40 modern Bachelor's and Master's programmes in business, computer science, and engineering as well as in interdisciplinary and innovative sciences. Students with at least one year of professional experience find exciting further education opportunities completely in the English language at Hof University Graduate School.

Strong practice orientation

All professors have a strong academic background as well as practical experience in industry. Teaching is based on innovative methods to convey application-oriented knowledge (e.g. projects with industry, site visits, involvement of company representatives). As a result, our graduates are ideally prepared for the domestic and international labour markets.

Intensive personal support

We are well-known for our friendly study atmosphere. An excellent student-to-lecturer ratio allows for frequent and personal contact between students and professors and an active exchange of ideas. Students receive intensive personal support during their studies and benefit from numerous services, such as orientation sessions, social integration events, and housing support.

The outlook of the university is extremely international, with more than 130 partner universities all over the world. More than twenty percent of students come from abroad, creating a truly multinational atmosphere.

Applied research

The university's five research institutes concentrate on information systems, biopolymers, and material sciences as well as sustainable water systems and hydrogen and energy management. The guiding principles for our research are practice-orientation, internationalisation and resource efficiency (focusing on indoor climate systems / water).

Students who are interested in a start-up or in the formation of a company get advice and support at Einstein1, the digital business incubator on campus of Hof University.

University location

Hof is a medium-sized town located at the top of Bavaria and in the heart of Europe, right in the middle of Berlin, Munich, and Prague. Hof has a population of about 50,000 and is an appealing and safe university town with plenty of leisure activities. To relax and unwind, there are numerous bars, cinemas, an orchestra, a theatre, a landscaped park called Theresienstein, and a beautiful lake – the Untreusee. Hof is also known for the International Hof Film Festival, which is one of the most important German film festivals.

The region around Hof has the second-highest industrial density in all of Europe, mainly specialising in manufacturing machinery and plastic (automobile) parts. The companies are mostly small and medium-sized businesses, the so-called hidden champions, and they provide ample opportunities for internships and entry jobs.

The city of Hof is surrounded by beautiful nature. It is located between the low mountain regions of the Fichtelgebirge and the Franconian Forest on the banks of the Saale River. You will find excellent possibilities for all outdoor sporting activities such as cycling, hiking, climbing, and skiing.
