

Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst
German Academic Exchange Service

Table of Contents

Master's degree	2
MA Anthropology • Leipzig University • Leipzig.....	2

Master's degree

MA Anthropology

Leipzig University • Leipzig

Overview

Degree	Master of Arts Anthropology
Teaching language	<ul style="list-style-type: none">English
Languages	The language of instruction is English. Students can choose to write the MA thesis in English or German.
Programme duration	4 semesters
Beginning	Winter semester
Application deadline	BA degree from non-German institution: 31 May (application to the Department of Anthropology and to https://www.uni-assist.de/en/) BA degree from German institution: 31 May (application to the Department of Anthropology) and 1 September (application to https://almaweb.uni-leipzig.de/)
Tuition fees per semester in EUR	None
Combined Master's degree / PhD programme	No
Joint degree / double degree programme	No
Description/content	The MA Anthropology is intended for students who have successfully completed a Bachelor's degree in Anthropology or a related discipline and wish to broaden and deepen their knowledge base of the discipline and develop advanced academic skills. The MA Anthropology is a two-year programme with astrong research orientation. During the first academic year, students read advanced theory, reflect on research method, improve academic skills (writing of research proposal, advanced essay writing in the style of a journal article, etc.) and deepen their regional expertise (students can choose electives from across the faculties of social sciences and humanities, such as African Studies or Global Studies). During the third semester, students conduct research for their Master's thesis or undertake an internship. The last semester is devoted to writing an MA thesis (approx. 30,000 words). All core courses are offered in English. Electives may be taught in English or German. Please see the language requirements before enrolling.

Course Details

Course organisation	During the first semester, students attend classes on "Current Debates" in the discipline and on the relationship between "Technology and Culture". Both modules offer training in anthropological theory. In addition, students will train in their regional specialisation. The second semester is devoted to methodological training. Students will attend the module "Advanced Method in Anthropology" and write a project proposal for their MA project. They will reflect on how best to communicate anthropological knowledge in the public sphere in the module "Anthropology and Communication". Students will engage in advanced training in their regional specialisation. Semester three is devoted to research. Students will conduct fieldwork for their MA project. Alternatively, students can undertake an internship for practical training. Students write the MA thesis in semester four.
----------------------------	---

International elements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • International guest lecturers • Specialist literature in other languages • Language training provided • Training in intercultural skills • International comparisons and thematic reference to the international context • Content-related regional focus
-------------------------------	--

Course-specific, integrated German language courses	No
--	----

Course-specific, integrated English language courses	No
---	----

Costs / Funding

Tuition fees per semester in EUR	None
---	------

Semester contribution	Approx. 270 EUR per semester https://www.uni-leipzig.de/en/international/studying-at-leipzig-university/during-your-studies/getting-started/
------------------------------	--

Costs of living	You will need about 1,000 EUR a month for your living expenses in Leipzig. Of course, this figure is only an estimate and depends on how much you spend. Here are some examples of monthly expenses in Leipzig: Rent: 300 - 450 EUR Health insurance: approx. 90 EUR Study materials: approx. 100 EUR Food, clothing, miscellaneous requirements: approx. 350 EUR In addition to monthly costs, you will have to pay deposits for your accommodation, UniCard, etc. at the beginning of your stay. Please also note that you will have to pay the semester fee and, if applicable, the semester ticket at the beginning of each semester.
------------------------	--

Funding opportunities within the university	No
--	----

Requirements / Registration

Academic admission requirements	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Bachelor's degree in anthropology or a related discipline2. successful completion of an admission test ("Eignungsfeststellungsprüfung")3. central online admission
Language requirements	The "Master of Arts Anthropology" is taught in English. Excellent skills in academic English (at level B2) are required. Knowledge of German is not a requirement.
Application deadline	BA degree from non-German institution: 31 May (application to the Department of Anthropology and to https://www.uni-assist.de/en/) BA degree from German institution: 31 May (application to the Department of Anthropology) and 1 September (application to https://almaweb.uni-leipzig.de/)
Submit application to	Please submit your application via e-mail to: master.ethnologie@uni-leipzig.de

Services

Possibility of finding part-time employment	The Studentenwerk provides a platform for job-seeking students.
Accommodation	The city has plenty of accommodation available at reasonable prices, much of which is a real treat in which to live. Many of the 19th century houses scattered all over the city were extensively, and often expensively, renovated in recent years. Most students live in the neighbouring districts of Südvorstadt and Connewitz, where the pre-WWII buildings are equally well preserved, as these areas of the city also have an ample supply of enticing bars and an alternative culture scene. There is a wide range of reasonably priced apartments and rooms in Leipzig. A room in the halls of residence run by the Studentenwerk Leipzig (Leipzig Student Services) has the advantage of already being furnished and enables you to make contact with other students. Shared apartments, so-called "Wohngemeinschaften" (WG), are particularly popular among Leipzig students. In a shared apartment, two or more students share a whole apartment, which includes a bathroom and a kitchen. There are various ways to find a room or a shared apartment. For example, you can find a place to live through: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• accommodation adverts• housing and room agencies• the Akademisches Auslandsamt (International Centre) accommodation service for ERASMUS and exchange students. Rent for a single room in a student residence is approx. 220 EUR. Private housing can be found on the Internet: http://www.studenten-wg.de and http://www.wg-gesucht.de
Support for international students and doctoral candidates	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Welcome event
Supervisor-student ratio	1:3

Contact

Leipzig University

Department of Anthropology

Dr Sina Emde

Schillerstraße 6
04109 Leipzig

Tel. +49 3419737220

✉ master.ethnologie@uni-leipzig.de

🌐 Course website: <https://www.gkr.uni-leipzig.de/en/institute-of-anthropology/degree-programmes/masters-programme>

📘 <https://www.facebook.com/ethnologieleipzig/>

Last update 24.12.2024 01:10:05

International Programmes in Germany - Database

www.daad.de/international-programmes www.daad.de/sommerkurse

Editor

DAAD - Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst e.V.
German Academic Exchange Service
Section K23 – Information on Studying in Germany
Kennedyallee 50
D-53175 Bonn
www.daad.de

GATE-Germany

Consortium for International Higher Education Marketing www.gate-germany.de

Disclaimer

The data used for this database was collected and analysed in good faith and with due diligence. The DAAD and the Content5 AG accept no liability for the correctness of the data contained in the "International Programmes in Germany" and "Language and Short Courses in Germany".

The publication is funded by the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research and by contributions of the participating German institutions of higher education.

Federal Ministry of Education and Research