The Berlin study abroad experience was the best experience that I have ever had. I met so many people from all over the world who will remain my friends for life. The course material and professors challenged me, but many exciting extracurricular activities were also incorporated into the programme.

The Hochschule für Wirtschaft und Recht (HWR Berlin) is a public university of applied sciences. The university offers a highly practical and hands-on approach to teaching, and all academic staff have real-world experience in the subjects that they teach. HWR Berlin is the third-largest specialist institution in business administration and economics in Germany; it is also highly ranked for its international focus, thanks to its wide network of global partnerships.

University location

The German capital is renowned for its flourishing cultural scene, fascinating history, and a way of life that seamlessly combines a fast-paced environment with a relaxed atmosphere. It is a city of contrasts: between East and West, historical buildings and modern architecture, and the traditional and the modern. All of these distinctive qualities make Berlin a fascinating place to discover.
