Target group	Students of all subjects as well as non-students interested in German language and culture (also beginners), minimum age by the start of the course: 17 years old
Description/content	The language course takes place from Monday to Friday in the mornings. Each morning there are four teaching units (45 minutes each). The learning methods are quite versatile: a variety of conversation exercises and discussions, current listening and reading texts combined with modern task-based grammar training – in this way, you can deepen and expand your oral and written German skills. Under the expert guidance of our qualified and experienced teachers, you can fully immerse yourself in a German-speaking culture. Specific study techniques such as reading strategies and presentation skills will also be practised. The lessons follow the aims of communicative competence of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) in an entertaining and inspiring way and will assist your independent learning process. Seminars and exercise courses take place in the afternoon. Depending on your language level, you can choose from exercise courses on phonetics, grammar, vocabulary and everyday German practice, or seminars on different current issues in the areas of cultural and social sciences, e.g. history, literature, film, environment, European policy and interculturality. A graded certificate will be issued to all participants at the end of the course. It will include your individual language level following CEFR as well as your ECTS credits.

Yes

Description of social and leisure programme

Our leisure programme includes city tours, museum visits, game and cooking nights, sports activities as well as hikes and trips in the region. At the weekend, we also offer exciting day trips to well-known sights, both near and distant. You can visit famous cities such as Heidelberg or Strasbourg and cultural regions such as the Black Forest and Alsace. There will also be a visit to one of the UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Excursions are available at extra charge.

You will be supervised by our student tutors, both during the leisure programme and during the excursions. With their support, you can improve your German skills and, together with learners from all over the world, discover the city and the region. This makes the language course in Freiburg a very special experience!

The Language Teaching Centre (Sprachlehrinstitut – SLI) is part of the Faculty of Philology at the University of Freiburg, which was founded in 1457 and includes 11 faculties. With its 25,000 students, the university is an integral part of cultural, social, and economic life of the city and contributes to the tolerant, open-minded, and friendly atmosphere that is typical of Freiburg.

International language courses have been offered at the University of Freiburg for over 100 years. It started in 1911 with "Freiburg Summer Courses". Coming to Freiburg to learn languages and get to know the country and its people thus has a long tradition.

University location

The university town of Freiburg lies at a tripoint – in close proximity to France and Switzerland – and is one of the most beautiful cities in Germany. The city's historic old town and the Gothic Minster reflect its rich tradition. At the same time, due to its modern infrastructure and its innovative environmental and energy policy, Freiburg has been crowned the "Green City". Having about 230,000 inhabitants, Freiburg is the southernmost city in Germany. Theatres, museums and cinemas provide a diverse cultural experience, while the Black Forest invites you to take a trip into nature.
