

Conditions of Participation at the Matchmaking Workshop in Quito, Ecuador from 24th to 26th June 2019 for the "German-Ecuadorian Research Co-operation Programme on Biodiversity and Climate Change (2019-2021)"

General Information

Please submit a CV as a university representative and describe your role within your university.

In addition, a sketch of the research project with reference to the topics of the above-mentioned funding programme and the feasibility within the university. It has to be considered what relevance the project has in terms of biodiversity and climate change.

Existing contacts with potential cooperation partners for a joint university/research cooperation programme are advantageous.

Eligible expenditure

On presentation of the individual documents, expenses for mobility (public transport) will be reimbursed to the airport in Germany and back to the place of residence. All other logistical details for the German participants (international flights, transport in Ecuador, meals, etc.) are organized by a commissioned event agency and also paid directly.

Please note:

The travel and subsistence expenses for the selected Ecuadorian participants, are covered by an event agency commissioned by the DAAD.