

German-Egyptian Progress Partnership, 2021; programme line 2: short measures

Programme objectives

The German Academic Exchange Service (Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst - DAAD) is distributing funds provided by the German Foreign Office (Auswärtiges Amt – AA) for the programme "German-Egyptian Progress Partnership".

The short measures of the programme are intended to contribute to creating additional opportunities for renewal at Egyptian universities, supporting them in their modernisation efforts. The cooperation with German partner universities as part of programme line 2 prioritises the following objectives:

The programme

- contributes to the expansion and/or intensification of cooperation structures.
- gives active impulses towards a sustainable quality improvement in research and teaching at the partner universities.
- contributes to knowledge transfer between the partner universities.
- contributes to the improvement of participant employability.

The following programme objectives (outcomes) are derived from these impacts:

- Project objective 1 (outcome 1): Networks between university partners or university cooperation have been initiated.
- Project objective 2 (outcome 2): Students, lecturers and researchers have acquired technical competences.
- Project objective 3 (outcome 3): New and innovative teaching methods/contents are integrated into the teaching.
- Project objective 4 (outcome 4): Impulses to introduce internships/networking with companies have been set at the partner universities.

These programme objectives should be achieved by means of the following direct results of measures/activities (outputs):

- Contacts between the participating universities are consolidated and/or extended.
- Students, lecturers and/or researchers have received further didactic or technical training.
- Curricula/modules are jointly developed/advanced that suit the local context and reflect the latest developments in science.
- The competences and knowledge of the university personnel have been extended.
- Knowledge on introducing practice-oriented teaching at the partner university has been extended.

Individual projects can focus on different aspects within the programme. It is not necessary that each project contributes to all programme objectives. Projects are also permitted room for manoeuvre in formulating their objectives and in their strategies for achieving them; whereby the project objectives must be consistent with programme objectives. The higher education institutions are accordingly asked to develop their projects based on the programme's impact analysis structure and programme indicators, thus enabling them to formulate measurable project objectives and associated indicators. These must be presented in the project description and project planning summary (for the detailed procedure, see Important information – A guide to results-oriented project planning and monitoring).
